

The Peri Hotel Hua Hin

The Peri Hotel Hua Hin is a bohemian-inspired hotel, drawing inspiration from Ernest Hemingway's novel 'The Old Man and the Sea.' You'll be captivated by the meticulous details, warm decor, and the profound influence of the sea as you wander through the hotel. Soft pillows, woven lamps, lush greenery, and hand-painted signs create an intimate and unique hotel experience.

The hotel's rooms are arranged around a lush garden and swimming pool. The wooden sun deck is adorned with comfortable loungers and umbrellas in subtle colors, while the hotel is just a few hundred meters from the sea. Here, you can truly unwind when you're not exploring the many activities and excursions that Hua Hin has to offer.

Breakfast is served in an inviting restaurant, but the culinary delights don't end there. The hotel's restaurant, CHOW MONG, meaning 'fishermen,' is designed as a modern fish market where you can savor local flavors from the sea for lunch and dinner. The hotel's bar, Malo, exudes a tropical tiki atmosphere with a rustic twist and, of course, serves tasteful and visually stunning drinks.
